Le séminaire "SEARCH" sur les effets du changement climatique sur les maladies infectueuses

The Office of Science and Technology and the Health, Welfare and Labor Office of the Embassy of France, in partnership with CNRS, Inserm and IRD, will hold the SEARCH Seminar (Seminar for European and America Research on Climate and Health) at the French Embassy on December 14th and 15th. The first edition of this seminar will focus on climate change’s impacts on infectious diseases.

This event aims at promoting cross-disciplinary exchanges and enhancing scientific cooperation between France and The United States in the fields of climate change and health.
