Chateaubriand Fellowships: Call for 2013-2014

The Chateaubriand Fellowship program is designed for doctoral students enrolled in an American university who wish to conduct part of their doctoral research in a French laboratory for a 4 to 9 month period. The Office of Science and Technology provide a stipend of up to 1,400 €/month (depending on other sources of funding) and cover the cost of travel and student health insurance.

Priority is given to candidates working toward a “double degree” (cotutelle) with their host institution. All STEM and Health disciplines are eligible. The required level of French remains at the discretion of the host laboratory.

The deadline for applications is February 1, 2013, for a stay which can begin from September 1, 2013 to April 1, 2014.

More information and registration: http://www.chateaubriand-fellowship.org

Browse all current calls for proposals