
Published on Friday February 15, 2013
View online: https://www.france-science.org/France-Stanford-Collaborative.html

The France-Stanford Center for Interdisciplinary Studies aims to bridge the disciplines of the humanities, social sciences, sciences, engineering, business and law, addressing historical and contemporary issues of significance for France and the United States from a broad range of perspectives.

Its programs bring faculty members, researchers and students from across Stanford’s departments and schools into contact with colleagues in France, to explore issues of common intellectual concern, to advance collaborative research, and to foster interdisciplinary inquiry.

The France-Stanford Center sponsors high quality collaborative research projects likely to foster new linkages and deepen existing connections between French scholars and students and their counterparts at Stanford University.

Application deadline: March 15, 2013

To apply and for more information, visit: http://francestanford.stanford.edu/collaborative_projects

You may also wish to consult the page for France-Stanford on France-science.org