The 2013 call for proposals for Marie-Curie Fellowships (FP7 - People) has been launched. These individual fellowships offer researchers of any nationality the opportunity to move abroad, within Europe and worldwide. Only experienced researchers (post-doc and beyond) are eligible, for periods of one or two years.

- International Outgoing Fellowships (IOF) will finance advanced training in high-level organizations located in non-European countries, thereby strengthening the international dimension of the European researcher’s career.

- International Incoming Fellowships (IIF) will finance research projects aimed at transferring knowledge to the host organization, and to establish or improve collaboration between Europe and the rest of the world.

- Intra-European Fellowships (IEF) will finance advanced training and career development, which may include the acquisition of new and/or complementary skills, as well as transnational mobility.

Applications are due before August 14, 2013 at 11:00am EST.
