France-Berkeley Fund - 2014 Call for Projects

Published on Tuesday October 22, 2013
View online: https://www.france-science.org/France-Berkeley-Fund-2014-Call-for,2443.html

The France-Berkeley Fund (FBF) is established to manage program studies, exchanges between teachers as part of cooperation agreements and its main goal is to help finance projects presented jointly by researchers at UC Berkeley or UC Davis (unfortunately, no applications from LBNL this year) and French higher education institutions.

All new research projects will be funded to a maximum of US $10,000 per year. Applications are accepted in all fields — the Humanities, Social Sciences, Exact Sciences, Engineering, the Applied Sciences, and the Professional Schools. Previous recipients of FBF awards can reapply two years after completion of their collaboration. However they have to reapply separately with a new partner and for a new project.

- Call for proposals deadline: January 21st, 2014
- Application and more information: http://fbf.berkeley.edu/Application2014.html

Please note that all applications from UC Davis need to go through: The Office of Sponsored Programs, Office of Research, Ahmad Hakim-Elahi