CEA has presented a new form of technology that will perform resurfacing with little energy and minimal environmental impact. It has been the object of a startup, Pegas-Tech, as well as the installation of a technological network, the Graftfast Alliance. Graftfast was formalized on June 6 when an agreement was signed at the 4th European Expo for Research and Innovation.

To learn more about Graftfast, please consult the CEA press release (in French).