

8 laureates for the US-French Post-Graduate Seminar on Nanocharacterization in March 2014

Published on Monday January 13, 2014

View online : <https://www.france-science.org/8-laureates-for-the-US-French-Post.html>

The Office for Science and Technology of the Embassy of France in the United States is organizing a seminar for PhD students on chemical analysis at the nanoscale. The objective of the seminar is to enhance scientific exchanges between young researchers, increase mutual awareness of laboratories of excellence in this field and to possibly trigger collaborations between US and French laboratories through PhD students.

The French Office for Science and Technology is offering eight (8) scholarships to PhD Students from the US laboratories below to attend the seminar. The competition for the grants was particularly rigorous, as the 8 applicants below were chosen from more than 65 applications. The Office for science and technology would like to congratulate them.

Last Name	First Name	University
De Jesus Baez	Luis	University of Buffalo
Dominguez-Medina	Sergio	Rice university
Lalonde	Marianne	Northwestern University
Le	Taoran	Georgia Tech University
Schneider	Nicholas	University of Pennsylvania
Tolbert	Allison	Georgia Tech University
Weber	Maggie	University of Texas in Austin
Wozny	Sarah	University of New Orleans

Please note that the registration for the french PhD students is still open until January 31.