

INRA campaign recruiting researchers and engineers with disabilities

Published on Thursday May 28, 2015

View online : <https://www.france-science.org/INRA-campaign-recruiting,3046.html>

The French National Institute for Agricultural Research (INRA) is recruiting individuals with disabilities to work as junior and experienced research scientists and engineers.

Disabled candidates who want to address future issues such as ensuring the supply of healthy, high quality food or promote competitive and sustainable modes of agriculture whilst protecting the environment, can apply to the specific recruiting process.

The deadline to apply is June 5 2015.

To apply and see more information.